DETAILED ACTION

This office action is in response to an amendment and request for continued examination filed 5/27/04. A request for continued examination under 37 CFR 1.114, including the fee set forth in 37 CFR 1.17(e), was filed in this application after final rejection. Since this application is eligible for continued examination under 37 CFR 1.114, and the fee set forth in 37 CFR 1.17(e) has been timely paid, the finality of the previous Office action has been withdrawn pursuant to 37 CFR 1.114. Applicant's submission filed on 5/27/04 has been entered.

Claims 1-26 have been cancelled. Claims 27-28 have been amended. Claims 27-28 are pending in the application.

Priority

An application in which the benefits of an earlier application are desired must contain a specific reference to the prior application(s) in the first sentence of the specification or in an application data sheet (37 CFR 1.78(a)(2) and (a)(5)). The specific reference to any prior nonprovisional application must include the relationship (i.e., continuation, divisional, or continuation-in-part) between the applications except when the reference is to a prior application of a CPA assigned the same application number. In the instant application reference to the immediate parent application No. 08/816,915, filed 3/13/1997, now U.S. 6,060,305 is not included in the current reference statement.

Sequence Compliance

This application contains sequence disclosures that are encompassed by the definitions for nucleotide and/or amino acid sequences set forth in 37 CFR 1.821(a)(1) and (a)(2). However, this application fails to comply with the requirements of 37 CFR 1.821 through 1.825 for the reason(s) set forth below or on the attached Notice To Comply With Requirements For Patent Applications Containing Nucleotide Sequence And/Or Amino Acid Sequence Disclosures. Specifically, the letter stating that the contents of the sequence listing and the CRF are the same must state that there is no new matter by the submission of the sequence listing and CRF. A new sequence listing, CRF and letter stating that there is no new matter and that the contents of the sequence listing and CRF are the same are required.

Claim Rejections - 35 USC § 112

The following is a quotation of the second paragraph of 35 U.S.C. 112:

The specification shall conclude with one or more claims particularly pointing out and distinctly claiming the subject matter which the applicant regards as his invention.

Claims 27 and 28 are rejected under 35 U.S.C. 112, second paragraph, as being indefinite for failing to particularly point out and distinctly claim the subject matter which applicant regards as the invention.

Claims 27 and 28 are vague and indefinite in that the metes and bounds of "the identifying characteristics" are unclear. It is unclear how to distinguish Fusarium venenatum cells having "the identifying characteristics". The specification does not define "the identifying characteristics" that are to be used to identify the recited host cells nor does the prior art have a single excepted definition for "identifying characteristics". As "identifying characteristics" is a relative term, the metes and bounds of the host cell unknown.

Claim Rejections - 35 USC § 112, first paragraph

The following is a quotation of the first paragraph of 35 U.S.C. 112:

The specification shall contain a written description of the invention, and of the manner and process of making and using it, in such full, clear, concise, and exact terms as to enable any person skilled in the art to which it pertains, or with which it is most nearly connected, to make and use the same and shall set forth the best mode contemplated by the inventor of carrying out his invention.

Claims 27-28 are rejected under 35 U.S.C. 112, first paragraph, as failing to comply with the written description requirement. The claim(s) contains subject matter which was not described in the specification in such a way as to reasonably convey to one skilled in the relevant art that the inventor(s), at the time the application was filed, had possession of the claimed invention.

Applicants recite a genus of host cells that have the identifying characteristics of Fusarium venenatum NRRL 30747.

The written description requirement for genus claims may be satisfied through sufficient description of a representative number of species by actual reduction to practice, reduction to drawings, or by disclosure of relevant identifying characteristics, i.e. structure or other physical and/or chemical properties, by functional characteristics coupled with known or disclosed correlations between function and structure, or by a combination of such characteristics sufficient to show that the applicant was in possession of the claimed genus.

Art Unit: 1636

In the instant case, applicants only disclose that Fusarium strains are characterized physically by characteristics such as mycelium extension and cotton-like culture (see page 4, line 27-page 5, line 2). Due to the original misclassification of the host strain of the instant invention as Fusarium graminearum, the specific cultural characteristics recited in the specification most closely resemble Fusarium graminearum and not venenatum (page 5, line 24 through page 6, line 10). Required techniques for the proper execution of identifying Fusarium venenatum as well as critical primers and unique cultural details are not provided in the specification. The specification does not disclose the identifying characteristics of a non-toxic, non-toxigenic, non-pathogenic Fusarium venenatum NRRL 30747 host cell, which is an essential element of the claims. Neither applicant nor the prior art provide a correlation between the "characteristics" provided in the specification and Fusarium venenatum NRRL 30747. Given the diversity of "identifying characteristics", and the inability to determine which will also be adequate to distinguish correct taxonomy of Fusarium venenatum NRRL 30747, it is concluded that the invention must be empirically determined. In an unpredictable art, the disclosure of one species would not represent to the skilled artisan a representative number of species sufficient to show applicants were in possession of claimed genus.

Conclusion

Claims 27 and 28 are rejected.
